HOW DO I GET A GED?

Getting a GED is simple. The first step is to locate a test center near your home and register. You can usually do this by phone. The cost varies, but the average is about $40.

Can I take the GED test online?

No, the GED can't be taken online. If they allowed you to take the test at home then there'd be no way of knowing who was actually taking the test. Then the GED would just be another one of the fake online high school diplomas you see advertised on the internet.

Be wary of schools that give diplomas based on an online test. Even if these schools claim to be accredited, the diploma will not get you into a college because they are not accepted. Before you waste hundreds of dollars on a fake diploma check to see if the school is recognized by the Better Business Bureau and the diploma is accepted by colleges and universities.

Why should I use the GED Academy Test Preparation? The GED Academy study program has helped thousands of people get their GED in the comfort of their home. It is by far the best selling student program available today.

Our online GED courses aren't like anything you have experienced before. They're more like going to the movies than going to class. Our goal is to make learning basic high school skills easy and fun, and of course fast.

The GED is accredited by the American Council on education. It was introduced in 1942 and has become the most accepted high school diploma for adults who left high school before graduating. About a half a million people earn their GED each year. With a GED you can enroll in any college or university. And all employers accept the GED as equivalent to a high school diploma. It's the gold standard.
